This much leaked out at Police Headqurters this morning: It is extremely probable that in view of the Grand Jury's investigation Inspector Syrnes will be ordered by the Police Commissioners to drive the gamblers out of the city and shut up the dives and disorderly houses that exist at the present time. Inspector Syrnes has charge of the Detective Bureau, and he holds that he is not responsible for the condition of the three inspection districts, which are in charge of Williams, Sierers and Conlin. Several years ago when the Board commissioned him to shut up the gambling houses, he did so and selzed about $100,000 worth of gambling implements and paraphernalia which was destroyed.

REPEAL THE SPEEDWAY BILL.

This Is the Demand to Be Urged at Cooper Union.

The decision of the Park Commissioners not to build the proposed speedway in Central secured. Park which has been so much desired by When owners of trotting horses, and which was provided for by Senator Plunkitt's bill, has not deterred the opponents of the law in their so long as the measure remains on the uel W. Baylis and Joseph D. Cornell, all of statute books, they say, it will stand as a Hempstead. menace to the artistic and natural beauties. The first name called this morning was of the Park. The present Board of Park Cor missioners might reconsider its action and Long Island City. provide for the construction of the driveway, r another Commission differently consti-the people's interests in the Park.

Accordingly the arrangements for the massmeeting to be held in Cooper Union to-night are being pushed to-day with unabated vigor, and a crowd which the great hall cannot contain is expected to demand admission.

One of the arguments advanced for the repeal of the Plunkit act is the possibility that it may be proved to be mandatory in its character. Its friends, the horsenen, claim thi for it, and threaten to put the question to a test in the courts.

The Park Board having refused to carry out the provisions of the law, the trotting-horse owners are thereby given a standing in court in mandamus proceedings.

If they should delay these proceedings until after the adjournment of the Legislature, and then succeed in their contention, there would be no remedy, with the law unrepealed. It would have to be carried into effect, and the speedway would have to be ouilt.

Mr. Jerome Says Political Influences Are at Work.

There were a number of exciting incidents his morning in the Queens County Court om at Long Island City at the trial of Mayor P. J. Gleason for an alleged assault on Alfred E. Nelson at a meeting of the Board of Health The trial is an event for the citizens of Long Island City, who have turned out in great numbers to witness the proceedings against their Chief Executive. Portly Mayor Gleason, the star of the drama, was very confident of the result of the trial when be entered the Court-House this morning, accompanied by his lawyers, John W. Goff and William Travers Jerome.
